References to “Landscape Architect” in this Part include the above parties otherwise subject to all rights and restrictions described in Part 2.

Principles of the Profession

Duties to the Public

- 1.2 The Landscape Architect owes a duty to the governments of Canada, British Columbia and the local governments therein, to uphold the law and the public trust in the integrity of the profession of landscape architecture, and, insofar as not in conflict with such duties, also to those governments in other jurisdictions applicable to the Landscape Architect’s work and practice. Under this public trust the Landscape Architect will always conduct herself or himself competently and with integrity.
- 1.3 The Landscape Architect has a duty to give due regard to the general public who will use the landscape architectural designs or other products of the Landscape Architect, and in so doing to uphold public health, safety and welfare in solutions which will improve built environments and enhance the integration of built and natural environments for a sustainable, livable and imaginative future.
- 1.4 The Landscape Architect owes a duty to the public to uphold the public trust in the expertise and judgment of professionals, through continuing education in the art, science and skills of landscape architecture, the thoughtful consideration of the social, environmental and economic impact of their professional activities, and the exercise of learned and uncompromised professional judgment.

Duties To The Client

- 1.5 The Landscape Architect has a duty to provide clients and employers with impartial professional judgment and undivided loyalty, with due regard to the Principles and Standards of the Profession.
- 1.6 The Landscape Architect will use due skill, care and diligence to, maintain current competency in his or her fields of consultation; recognize personal and professional limitations; obtain relevant facts, and; consider relevant principles, before providing professional services.
- 1.7 The Landscape Architect will exercise independent professional judgment and uncompromised evaluation in professional practice. The Landscape Architect should disclose to clients and employers any interest and circumstance which may influence whether or not a client will retain, or an employer will hire or retain, the Landscape Architect’s services. The Landscape Architect will not act where there is a conflict of interest between the Landscape Architect and a client or employer, without the client’s or employer’s express consent.

Duties To The Environment

- 1.8 The Landscape Architect must have due regard to the duties of a steward for the quality of environments, and to better integrate built and natural environments. The practice of landscape architecture must conserve and improve the quality of environments through planning and design, with expertise in physical interventions on sites, for a more sustainable, livable and imaginative future.
- 1.9 Landscape Architects will use the due skill and care of leaders in understanding ecosystem principles, and in the application of human and natural ecology in landscape architectural solutions, for the long-term health of the natural environment, and the long-term health and welfare of the public in built environments which celebrate the human experience.
- 1.10 The Landscape Architect has an obligation to use duty of care as a leader in environmental design through due diligence in continuing education, including the assessment of emerging technologies and research.
[Amended: May 3, 2008]

Duties To The Profession

- 1.11 The Landscape Architect should always conduct himself or herself with candor, fairness, courtesy and respect, as the conduct of one reflects on all Members of the profession. This obligation includes contacts with all those associated with the profession and practice of landscape architecture, including associates, clients, contractors, consultants, employees, and the general public.
- 1.12 The Landscape Architect will assist the Society in maintaining the Bylaws of the Society. The Landscape Architect will advise the Society, without fear or favour, of apparent dishonest or unprofessional conduct of another Landscape Architect.
[Amended: May 3, 2008]
- 1.13 The Landscape Architect will assist the Society in promoting the integrity of professional practice through open, honest, clear, considerate and accurate communication, and organized practice.

Duties To Oneself

- 1.14 The Landscape Architect has duties to herself or himself, to take pride in professional practice, to be honest and fair in assessing their own strengths, and to take time for family and friends.

Practice Standards and Education

- 1.15 The Board will establish and maintain standards of practice for Landscape Architects, to assist Landscape Architects on issues arising from the practice of landscape architecture. Standards may be approved by the Members by Special Resolution for greater certainty.
- 1.16 The Board may establish a Practice Standards Committee and delegate any or all authority and responsibility for standards of practice and the interpretation of the Principles and Standards of the profession of landscape architecture in British Columbia to such Committee.
- 1.17 The Board may take any steps they consider advisable to promote and improve the standard of practice by Landscape Architects, including:
- (a) establishing, maintaining or supporting a system of professional education for,
 - i. professional training,

Inquiry or Complaint

1.19 Anyone may,

- (a) make an inquiry to the Registrar, to clarify the Principles and Standards of Landscape Architects, on a no-names basis, and/or
- (b) deliver a written complaint to the Registrar alleging:
 - i. breach of the Act, Bylaws, Principles or Standards of the Society by a Landscape Architect, Associate or firm;
 - ii. unprofessional conduct, or;
 - iii. incompetent practice.

A complaint must include a brief outline of facts relevant to the allegation.

1.20 Information received by a Director from any source that indicates that a specified Landscape Architect's or Associate's conduct may constitute a discipline violation must be treated as an internal complaint, in the nature of a self-regulating spot-check of standards, for at least preliminary consideration.

1.21 The Society cannot comment upon the business, contractual or other legal claims or legal relationships among parties. The Society may only assess whether a breach of the Act, Bylaws, Principles or Standards has occurred. Investigations and reviews of a complaint by the Society must be limited to the context of the status of the Landscape Architect in the Society, and the principles and standards required for professional conduct and good standing. All responses or comments by the Society, its officers and staff, must be so qualified or limited.

Confidentiality of Complaints

1.22 No Member, Director, officer, staff, consultant or contractor of the Society is permitted to disclose any information or records that form part of a complaint, or the Registrar's, Credential Committee's, Bylaw and Standard's Committee, Board or Board of Examiners' investigation or review of a complaint, except for,

- i. the purpose of complying with legal duties, or with these Bylaws;
- ii. the existence of a complaint against a Landscape Architect or Associate, its subject matter and its status if,
 - (1) the identity of the Landscape Architect has already been disclosed to the public, and
 - (2) the complaint has become generally known to the public; and
- iii. the existence of a complaint against the Society, its subject matter and status.

1.23 Confidential information in this Part includes,

- (a) the name of the party who initiated the complaint;
- (b) such details of the matter including project or other parties names, which ought reasonably be considered private or confidential if the disclosure would likely breach the confidentiality of the complainant's identity, and;
- (c) all business and personal information of a complainant and all other parties which is not likely in the public realm.

All confidential information will be held in strict confidence, and not disclosed or left available for unauthorized use except for the limited purposes in paragraph 1.22. Confidential information may be held and discussed in strict confidence by the Registrar and Committee personnel, and for the limited extent necessary to allow the Landscape Architect or Associate whose conduct is questioned to adequately respond, also in strict confidence, to the complaint. [Amended: May 3, 2008]

1.24 It is in the public interest that Landscape Architects who have been subject to an inquiry and hearing and found in breach of Professional Principles or Standards, be cited by the Society in notices to Members in sufficient detail to identify,

- (a) the identity of the Landscape Architect or Associate, by name, community of primary residence; and date of admission into the Society;
- (b) the date of compliance hearing, and the names of those hearing the matter;
- (c) the names of legal counsel, if any;
- (d) a summary of facts on a no-names basis to identify the general nature of the conduct and complaint; and
- (e) a summary of the result, including any disciplinary action.

For greater certainty, such publication will be strictly subject to the condition that the name and business and personal details of the complainant, and specific details of projects and other parties, will be not be disclosed and must be held as private and confidential.

Preliminary Consideration and Investigation of Complaints

1.25 The Registrar must consider, or delegate to a Director for preliminary consideration, every complaint received. The preliminary consideration of a complaint will assess whether the complaint or matter,

- (a) is outside the jurisdiction of the Society;
- (b) is frivolous, vexatious or an abuse of process, or;
- (c) does not allege facts that, if proved, would reasonably constitute a discipline violation.

Following a preliminary consideration, the Registrar or delegatee may decline to investigate a complaint on written notice to the complainant, with a copy to the Bylaws and Standards Committee.

1.26 The Registrar may, and if directed by the instruction of the Bylaws and Standards Committee must, investigate a complaint. The preliminary investigation will include,

- (a) contacting the Landscape Architect named in the complaint, and;
- (b) contacting the complainant or other parties,

to clarify basic relationships and context. The Registrar may delegate responsibility for an investigation to a Director.

1.27 The Registrar must deliver to the Landscape Architect named in the complaint a copy of the complaint or, if that is not practicable, a summary of it, subject to,

- (a) delaying notification of the Landscape Architect if the Registrar considers it necessary for the effective investigation or if likely to decline further investigation, and
- (b) the authority to decline to or defer identifying the complainant or the source of the complaint if in doing so would not likely prejudice the Landscape Architect's rights to fully respond.

1.28 The Registrar may require the Landscape Architect, to whom a copy or summary of the complaint has been delivered, to respond in a timely way, in writing. The response must be signed personally, or by a director of a firm or corporation if the complaint is about an authorized business, or by counsel for the Landscape Architect or business. The response must be delivered to the Registrar as soon as practicable and, in any event, by the date set by the Registrar which will be not less than fourteen (14) days from the receipt of the notice of complaint to the Landscape Architect.

1.29 After receiving a response from the Landscape Architect, the Registrar should report to the complainant, and may deliver to the complainant a copy of the response or a summary of it, subject to concerns for private or confidential information. The Registrar may allow both parties to clarify any significant points. The preliminary investigation could conclude with a summary of the information and complaint, and a summary of the response by the Landscape Architect.

Complaint Information System

1.30 The Registrar will provide a system to,

- (a) manage all confidential records and evidence of a complaint and complaint process, and
- (b) maintain a public registry of complaints indicating the date of initial receipt by year; the general categories of complaints; the disposition as declined jurisdiction, dismissed following preliminary investigation, referred to Committee inquiry, referred to Practice Review, or referred to disciplinary review, and; the resolution by preliminary consensual process, panel decision, or appeal.

Preliminary Resolution

1.31 The Registrar or either party at any time may attempt to resolve or expedite reviews through a consensus of relevant facts and/or issues of a complaint, through meetings of the Registrar and the parties, to,

- (a) clarify the Society's Principles and Standards,
- (b) allow for the admission of specified conduct or other facts by the Landscape Architect and/or the complainant,
- (c) allow for the withdrawal of specified allegations by the complainant, and/or
- (d) propose undertakings of the Landscape Architect of disciplinary conditions, and/or remedial actions for personal, professional or business practice.

The Registrar may choose, or may decide following an application from either party, to refer all or any issue or matter to third-party mediation, or other informal and independent means of achieving consensus, except that the mediation must be strictly limited to matters of professional status with the Society.

1.32 After investigating a complaint, the Registrar may take no further action if he or she is satisfied that the complaint,

- (a) is not valid or its validity cannot be reasonably established on the professional burden of proof of a fair and reasonable preponderance of credible evidence;
- (b) does not disclose a breach of professional conduct serious enough to warrant further action, or
- (c) has been resolved.

1.33 The Bylaws and Standards Committee may decide to further review or inquire after the implications of the Landscape Architect's conduct, independently of the initial complaint and any preliminary resolution, through either a Practice Review or Disciplinary Review process, or both.

1.34 The Registrar must advise both the complainant and the Landscape Architect in writing, with a copy to the Bylaws and Standards Committee, of the status following a decision on whether to refer the matter on, or take no further action. Such notice must include,

- (a) summary notes of the reason for the decision, and
- (b) summary instructions on the expected process for further Committee inquiry, or how to apply for a review of the decision to take no action.

Committee Inquiry

- 1.35 Unless the Registrar decides that no further action is required, the Registrar must refer the complaint and preliminary investigation report to,
- (a) the Credentials Committee, if the complaint is related to Membership qualifications, education or continuing education, or Membership application processes, and/or
 - (b) the Bylaws and Standards Committee, for all other matters.
- 1.36 A complainant may apply to the Bylaws and Standards Committee for a review of a decision to take no action by the Registrar. Such application must be made within thirty (30) days after the decision is communicated to the complainant unless delayed due to outstanding circumstances beyond the control of the complainant and such delay is accepted by the Chair of the Bylaws and Standards Committee.
- 1.37 Under either a referral from the Registrar or an application from the complainant, the Bylaws and Standards Committee must review the documents obtained, collected or produced by the Registrar's preliminary investigation, and may instruct the Registrar to seek preliminary resolution of facts or matters, and/or make or provide for further inquiries of the complainant, the Landscape Architect or any other person.

The Bylaws and Standards Committee has the authority to do any one or more of the following when considering a complaint:

- (a) decide that no further action be taken on the complaint or a review of the Registrar's decision;
- (b) make recommendations on professional practice standards to the Landscape Architect, if carrying out of the recommendations should improve the Landscape Architect's practice;
- (c) require the Landscape Architect to meet and discuss the circumstances of the complaint with a Director or counsel designated by the Committee, who must then report to the Committee;
- (d) find that there are reasonable grounds to believe that the Landscape Architect is practicing in an incompetent manner and order a Practice Review of the Landscape Architect's practice;
- (e) require a Disciplinary Review of facts, grounds and disciplinary responses to alleged breaches of Professional Practice Principles or Standards, and;
- (f) reconsider a preliminary action or response based on more complete information, and require one or more additional inquiry steps or disciplinary responses.

- 1.38 The purpose of a Practice Review is to assess the quality management systems and controls of a Landscape Architect's practice, including document control, time management and information management systems, with a view to improving systems for the professional practice of landscape architecture.
