

ground cubed is growing!

who are we?

we are a team of landscape architects, urban designers, planners, a golf course architect, construction administrator, and talented technologists - and a few dogs too! we maintain an informal and inclusive studio atmosphere where ideas are shared, cultivated, and transformed into meaningful work for our communities.

we do all kinds of work and we are always up for a challenge. public and private sector. public realm, streetscapes, master planning. resort and golf course developments. feasibility studies, community planning, and visualizations. in everything we do, we bring a passion for design excellence, spirit of curiosity, and a commitment to rigorous practice. oh, and we have a lot of fun along the way.

who are we looking for?

we are looking for a calgary-based team member who can contribute to our landscape architecture | urban design work, and to our unique office environment.

we are looking for individuals with at least 3 years of experience working in a professional practice environment - someone with a keen design sense, with diverse experiences, skills, and interests, and who thrives as part of a team.

assets may include:

- ability to use autocad/revit/rhino/sketchup and adobe creative suite
- visualization capabilities
- interpersonal and organizational skills
- construction and technical knowledge
- project management and construction administration experience
- engagement and facilitation capabilities
- graphic design/layout
- ability to write, tell stories, and deliver presentations

if the above description describes you and you are interested in the position, please introduce yourself and apply with a cover letter, resume, and portfolio:

applications accepted until Friday, January 20th, 2023
at curious@groundcubed.com

