

PUBLICCITY

PUBLIC CITY ARCHITECTURE is receiving resumes from talented registered (or eligible) landscape architects across Canada with a minimum of 5 years professional office experience. Those applicants with experience working in multi-disciplinary urban design and architecture teams are of particular interest to us. If you possess a strong, critical, award-winning design portfolio, have a high and innovative knowledge of construction and assembly techniques and can demonstrate that you are productive and inspiring to work with, you will be invited to interview in person or by teleconference. The position will remain open until a candidate is found.

PUBLIC CITY ARCHITECTURE is an award-winning transdisciplinary practice lead by architects and landscape architects active in social, public, and cultural urban work. We are based in Winnipeg, and are developing our reach. We currently have projects in Manitoba, Ghana, Ontario, and Alberta.

We depend on entrepreneurial doer-type thinkers and makers in our studio. People who are sleeves-up, hands dirty in their approach to problem-solving; playful and fun in their disposition; skilled, thoughtful, and critical in their approach to work; productive and professionally ambidextrous when it comes to the two professions, and who are happy about the work that they do each day, will thrive here. We offer benefits and competitive salaries in an emerging, livable, affordable city.
